Each county in New York State, outside of New York city, has an office for aging that can also provide more information about these programs.

If you are unable to contact your local Office for Aging, you should contact the State Office for Aging at (800) 342-9871. The New York City Human Resources Administration information and referral number is (877) 472-8411.

1. Social Security

General Eligibility Rules

Because financial requirements may vary, check with the individual program. Refer to the following as a broad guideline.

Resources: Defined as assets or property that you own. Resources that usually affect eligibility are cash, bank accounts, investments and valuables. Resources that generally do not count are a home, car, income-producing property and personal effects. There are usually special rules for separated or non-eligible spouses and for “spending down” resources.

Before transferring resources, including your home, consult an Elder Law Attorney.

Income: Both earned and unearned usually count. Earned income is wages for work performed. Unearned income includes Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, pensions, interest, valuable gifts. In-kind income — when others pay for services — may or may not be counted. Check with each program. Because eligibility is often based on net income, look for deductions that may make you eligible.

Apply: Even when you are not sure that you qualify, apply. You may apply by mail, phone, in person, through an authorized representative or, if homebound, by requesting an in-home interview.

The income and resource numbers in this pamphlet are the 2019 figures. The income and resource levels may increase annually. Please check with the appropriate agency if you are using this pamphlet after 2019.

Part A – Hospital Insurance

Anyone 65 or over who is eligible to receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits is automatically eligible and pays no premium. Others may purchase this insurance for a monthly premium. Starting in 2017, Part A covers all in-patient hospitalization costs in any benefit period, except for a deductible of $1,364 and a co-pay of $341 per day for days 61 through 90, and $682 per day for days 91 through 150.

Home Health Care and Hospice Services are also available. Co-insurance and deductible payments are adjusted annually.

Part B – Medical Insurance

Newly applied Medicare Part B beneficiaries will pay the minimum monthly premium of $135.50 (in 2019). Individuals with annual income over $85,000 ($170,000 for married couples) will pay a higher monthly premium based on a sliding scale of income. Medicare pays 80% of the approved charge and the beneficiary is responsible for both the 20% co-pay and an annual deductible of $185.

Free assistance is available from the Medicare Rights Center: (800) 333-4114; (212) 890-3850; and from the Health Insurance Counseling and Assistance Program (HiicaP): (800) 701-0501. NYC residents may also call the NYC HICAP help line: (212) 333-5511.

Part C – Medicare Advantage

Medicare advantage Plans cover all Part A and Part B services. Care is provided by private companies as an alternative to traditional Medicare Parts A and B. Premiums and co-payments may be lower than traditional Medicare, but all care must be provided or approved by the Managed Care Plan. Part C monthly premiums vary by plan. Many plans include prescription drug coverage. For information and assistance, call Medicare: (800) 633-4227, or go to www.medicare.gov.

Part D - Prescription Drug Coverage

Medicare Part D prescription coverage is provided by a variety of private plans. Unlike Parts A and B, people must take action to enroll in Part D. Premiums and the extent of coverage for the many private plans vary widely. No Medicare drug plan may have a deductible more than $415 in 2019 and some Medicare drug plans don't have a deductible at all. The plan pays its share until what they have paid (plus the deductible, if any) reaches $3,820. There is then a coverage gap of $5,100. During this time, the consumer pays out of pocket for prescription drugs. The consumer pays 25% of the cost for brand-named drugs and 37% for generics. Once the consumer has paid $5,100 out of pocket for the year, the plan should pay the majority of prescription expenses (less a small co-pay for each drug) for the rest of the year. See website at: www.medicare.gov (The website contains various search engines which enable consumers to search for a local plan. However, the website may not contain the most updated information and may have errors. Consumers should check with local providers before enrolling in a plan to make sure the information provided on the website is accurate).
